Diary Activity Review: Quiz

10 questions on the course (sections 6–22). Answer each one in your own words, then check your answers against the course study guide.

Name: _____ Date: _____

1 Two-part activity, four videos

An activity description covers two parts (e.g. "cooking lunch and having lunch"), and you have 4 videos: two show the cooking, two show the eating. Each pair fully covers its part on its own. How many videos should you select?

2 Phone visible, game not

The activity description says "I was playing games on my phone." A video shows the participant holding and looking at their phone, but you can't see the screen or hear any game audio. How should you answer, and what should the edited description say?

3 Audio-only conversation

The activity description is "talking to my sister", and a video has no visual of a second person but does have audio of a conversation. Should this video be included as evidence?

4 Emotions from audio

The participant's face and body don't show any clear emotional cue in a video, but their tone of voice and laughter do. Can that audio be used when scoring their emotions?

5 Fixed scale for emotion scores

When scoring Happy, Stressed, and Energized from 0–10, is there a fixed scale or set of reference anchors (e.g. "7 always means visible excitement") to follow?

6 Overlapping vs Adjacent

What's the difference between the "Overlapping Videos" and "Adjacent Videos" tabs, and should you ever check Adjacent videos if an Overlapping video already seems to show the activity?

7 Computer in a work-like setting

A video shows the participant using a computer in what looks like a work setting, but there's no strict evidence of what they're actually doing. It's plausible they're working, but they could be doing something else. How should this be answered?

8 Requirements when answering "No"

If the activity description is judged "No" (not visible in the videos at all), what's required before submitting?

9 When to describe the visible part

At which point in the process are you required to describe what part of the activity is visible in the video?

10 Submitting with a blank required field

You try to submit the task but left a required field blank. What happens?
